I believe in social dialogue. Social dialogue between workers and their employers gave birth to the social security system that we are so proud of in Europe and that all the world envies us for.

I believe in Europe as a project. Our Europe needs a strong European administration with staff united by good working conditions and their pride to deliver a high quality service to all Europeans.

We as staff members need to be properly represented and defended when member states, via pressure on our Administration, try to erode the social security system and health insurance they do want to keep for their own citizens.

We as staff are important for the EU.

Let's unite and be actors of our destiny.
