DG BUDG

In a fast changing world it is even more important than in the past to defend the European institutions and their staff who are in the service of the citizens of the Union.

Political and economic crisis and the resulting budgetary cuts have already in the past left their marks on the HR policy of our institution. The sanitary crisis will also add its fingerprints. Only a united list encompassing all categories of staff from different political backgrounds will have sufficient strength to defend the rights, careers and the well-being of the citizens serving in our institution.

I witnessed during the two decades that I worked for the European institutions that the societies of all Member States became more fragmented and less cohesive. Let's join forces and all our energy to avoid that this regretful development will also be reflected in our institution.

This is the reason why I joined U4U as I see this list with its values and candidates as the best placed to achieve our common goal: to preserve the European public service as an accomplished servant of our citizens and as a working place attracting the best talents from all professional backgrounds.
